LAS TRAMPAS WILDERNESS BOLLINGER CREEK TRAIL

Bollinger Canyon Trail provides a relatively short, moderate hike up to the top of Las Trampas Ridge. Las Trampas Regional Wilderness offers 5,342 acres of wilderness and an expanded trail system that allows hikers and horseback riders to enjoy its remote and rugged areas. The park's size and terrain allow visitors a feeling of privacy and escape from urban hustle and bustle. Once at the top, you will see beautiful panoramic views of the East Bay. This park is a good place for bird watching. There are many species of hawks, and occasionally, golden eagles are sighted.

FINLEY ROAD LOOP JEREMIAH TRAIL

Jeremiah Trail is named for Jeremiah Morgan who was a rancher in the mid-late 1800s. This trail is for those who love a challenge and provides a good sampling of the varied landscape in the Northern California hills. It roller-coasters up and down on old roads, narrow footpaths, and has cow paths that barely leave an impression in the tall grass. The trail leads across open grassland, wooded hills, and dips into deep ravines embedded with the creeks that created them. Beautiful stands of live and blue oaks weave among the canyons and sycamores shade the creek bottoms.

Distance: 8.4 miles | Time: 4 Hours | Altitude Gain: 1,650 Feet

BISHOP RANCH REGIONAL PRESERVE

Visit Bishop Ranch and see the changing of the seasons. This is a great park to visit when you only have a short time to hike. The black oaks and big leaf maples burst with color during the fall. Climb to the ridge's top to get a great vista of the San Ramon Valley. This park offers quiet and solitude on 444 acres, just a short distance from San Ramon Valley subdivisions. Watch for animals such as deer, red-tailed hawks and turkey vultures. The climb is steep in the beginning, but the view is well worth it. It is perfect for an early evening nature walk.

IRON HORSE TRAIL

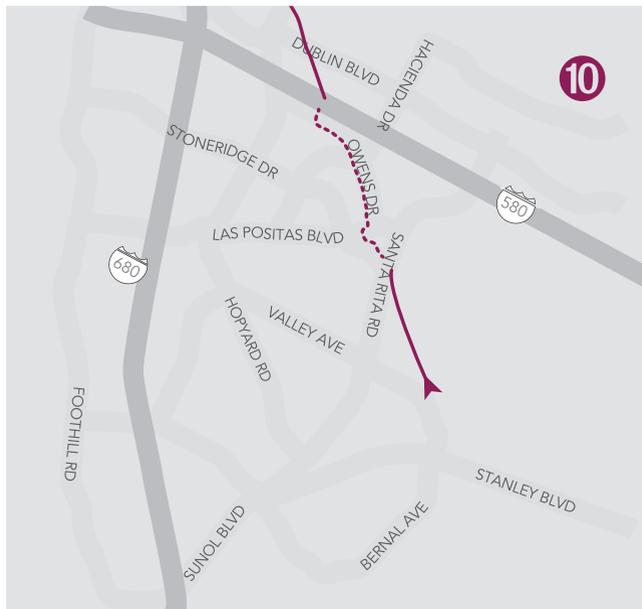

This multi-use, whole-access trail creates an important recreational and commute component for the communities it serves. The 20-foot-wide paved trail connects residential and commercial areas, public transportation, parks and regional trails and passes through four of the five cities in the Tri-Valley.

There are many entries to the trail. Reach the southern trailhead, by exiting Interstate 580 at Hopyard Road. Go north on Hopyard Road and then east on Dublin Boulevard, and go .5 mile. Continue south on Demarcus Boulevard, which leads to the Dublin/Pleasanton BART station. The signed trailhead is at the north end of the parking lot.

Hours 5:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Distance: 55 miles from Livermore in Alameda County to Suisun Bay in Contra Costa County.
